WILSON TIDE CONTINUES TO RISE AS MORE RETURNS ARE RECEIVED

Illinois Goes Into the Democratic Column and California Finally Sticks There, After Playing Tag With the Bull Moose All Day.

CONTROL OF THE NEXT SENATE IS ASSURED THE DEMOCRATS

Will Have a Good Working Majority—Progressives Will Help—Estimated That Combined Popular Vote of Taft and Roosevelt Will Be Approximately Million More Than Wilson's.

New York, Nov. 7.—Uncertainty as to the electoral choice of California and Illinois, as developed by belated returns from both States, was the chief point of interest, although the counting of ballots, in several doubtful States, still was underway.

That Illinois was safely in the Wilson column was indicated early in the evening, but California, which had been claimed by the Progressives during the day, wavered back to the Democratic ranks. The Wilson plurality Wednesday of 12,000 was heavily cut, with a few hundred remote precincts still unheard from. Progressive leaders claimed these would change the total to a Roosevelt plurality, but the missing precincts generally were accredited to the Democrats and the Wilson lead, while small, seemed safe.

After apparently holding Illinois for nearly 40 hours from the time the polls closed, Col. Roosevelt lost its 29 electoral votes late in the day, when the assembling of State-wide returns showed a definite victory for Governor Wilson.

On the strength of incomplete returns as to the popular vote for Wilson, Roosevelt and Taft, the estimate was made tonight that Governor Wilson would not have a majority of all votes cast. In many States, the popular vote has been only roughly estimated thus far; but the reports indicate that the combined vote of Roosevelt and Taft will be approximately one million more than the vote for Governor Wilson.

The figures will be materially changed by the final count, but it is expected the proportion for each candidate will not vary greatly. The preliminary count gives Wilson approximately 46 per cent. of the vote; Roosevelt 29 per cent., and Taft 25 per cent. The total vote thus far reported is less than in 1908, while ojcial returns are expected to bring it above those figures. In 1908, out of a combined vote of 14,030,858 cast for Taft and Bryan, President Taft received over 54 per cent.

Returns from Minnesota today confirmed the claim of Roosevelt to the 12 electoral votes of that State. The Wilson victory, claimed on the earlier returns had become doubtful last night as the count progressed. Latest returns today, with many precincts still to be heard from, gave Roosevelt an apparently safe majority.

The victory for Wilson in New Hampshire did not carry with it control of the State Legislature, where the Republicans again have a majority on joint ballot and will dictate the selection of a United States Senator.

Democrats in Control.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Control of the Senate in the 63rd Congress now is practically assured to the Democrats. Conceding to the Republicans the Legislatures of all States still in the doubtful column, tonight, the Democrats will have a vote of 48, or one-half of the entire membership of the Senate, with a Democratic Vice President in the chair to cast the deciding ballot, in case of a tie. Seven States are yet to be heard from definitely.

A Senator from any of these would give the Democrats a clear majority and it is possible their strength will be even further increased by winning in several.

Kansas has been added to the Democratic column in the past 24 hours. The States in which the complexion of the Legislatures is yet to be decided are:

Illinois, Michigan, New Hampshire, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee and Wyoming.

Ordinarily Tennessee could be relied upon to help the Democratic party, but the factional fight there may prevent in this crisis. In Illinois there are complications growing out of the multiplicity of parties, rendering it uncertain whether there will be a Senatorial election. In that State there should be chosen a successor to the deposed Lorimer and to Senator Cullom, whose term expires on the fourth of next March. If there should be no election the effect would be to favor the Democrats by reducing the membership of the Senate to 94, of which number the 48 already chosen would be a working majority.

In New Hampshire the dispatches indicate a possible combination of Democrats and Republicans and in that event prediction as to the course of the man selected would be mere guess work.

Whatever the outcome in any of the States mentioned, there can be no doubt as to the Democratic control of the Senate.

In addition to the aid of the Vice President in an emergency, they will find willing co-operation among the Progressive Senators. Three or four of the Progressives are almost as liberal in their tariff views, and on other questions as the Democrats themselves. Senators Clapp, LaFollette, Cummins, Gronna, Bristow and Poindexter are all avowed tariff reformers. They also favor advanced legislation on other subjects. Senator Works announced his intention of voting for the Democratic Presidential candidate some time before the election. This determination was due, however, to a peculiar combination of circumstances, and the California Senator probably would not wish to have it construed as binding him to a Democratic legislative policy. He is classed as a protectionist.

Of the 31 hold-over Republicans, eight have been classed as progressives in the past. They are Senators Bristow, of Kansas; Crawford, of South Dakota; Cummins, of Iowa; Gronna, of North Dakota; Clapp, of Minnesota; LaFollette, of Wisconsin; Poindexter, of Washington, and Works of California.

Mr. Norris has been one of the leaders of the progressive element in the House and will continue to co-operate with that element in the Senate as it is expected that Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, will and possibly Senator Borah, of Idaho, in such measures as may appeal to them.

Much interest is manifested in the political affiliation of the Progressives. Heretofore they have been content to be known as Progressive Republicans. Whether any number of them will withdraw from the Republican party is a problem. Senators Bristow, Clapp and Poindexter are understood to have supported Mr. Roosevelt and if they should decline to co-operate with the Republicans of the Senate the change would materially weaken the old party.

Wilson's Plurality Grows.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Late returns gave additional gains to Governor Wilson in Illinois and his plurality went up from 9,437 to 15,042. Official figures from Clay county changed a plurality for Roosevelt of 1,793 to a plurality for Wilson of 1,290. Other additions to the Wilson column came in the belated returns from 91 precincts.

Close in California.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—Returns from 4,220 precincts out of 4,372 in California give Wilson 279,808; Roosevelt 279,282. Wilson lead 526.

At 10 o'clock Wilson's plurality over Roosevelt in the State had been reduced to 99 votes. A total of 4,238 precincts out of 4,372 gave Wilson 280,426; Roosevelt 280,327. Four precincts from Los Angeles county contributed towards this change.

"A New Call to the Moose."

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, defeated candidate for Vice President on the Progressive ticket, in Chicago today on his way home to California, declared that the defeat was merely an incident of the Progressive fight and of "little more consequence to the ultimate success of earnest men than the missing of a train."

Tired with his campaigning, but with determined bearing he sounded what he characterized as a "new call to the Moose" and therein gave the call to his followers to begin a fight for 1914 and 1916.

"We might express our determination in the words of Abraham Lincoln," he said. "'All we have to do is to keep the faith; remain steadfast to the right. Stand by your principles and by your guns and victory complete and permanent is sure at last.'

"The lasting and permanent victory was won by Progressives Tuesday in the crystallization of a great public sentiment founded upon a moral conception. That immediate success did not come to the candidates is of no consequence. The big thing has been accomplished. There is a new party in the nation that has come to stay, a new spirit in Americanism that means ultimately real progress; a new life in politics that marks a better National existence.

"Progressives in every State have had their baptism of fire. They are unafraid still and will preserve their organizations everywhere.

"In common with all Americans we wish Mr. Wilson a successful and prosperous administration."

Wyoming.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 7.—Three hundred and ten precincts out of 472 in Wyoming give Wilson 10,591; Taft 10,328; Roosevelt 4,624.

The drop in the Roosevelt vote was due to failure to count his vote in a number of counties. The Senatorial race is still in doubt.

The Democrats have 40 votes in the next Legislature, the Republicans 35; necessary to choice, 43. Lincoln county is missing. Unita county, which, with one comprises an election district, has gone Democratic by a small majority. This district elects eight legislators and holds the deciding vote.

Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 7.—Practically complete returns from all but five of the 99 counties of the State continue

MIND IS OPEN ON CABINET MAKE-UP

Wilson Won't Decide on Personnel Until He Maps Out Course.

BUSY ANSWERING MESSAGES

The President-elect Accepts an Invitation to Participate in a "Birthplace Jubilee" at Staunton, Va.—Visitors.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson has not decided upon the personnel of his cabinet and he intends to keep his mind open on the subject for a long time before he takes office. He manifestly was concerned today about certain speculations emanating from Princeton with respect to the probable make-up of his cabinet. To put an end, if possible, to all gossip about cabinet appointments, he issued the following statement: "Such speculations are perfectly fruitless. I mean to keep my mind entirely open with regard to appointments of the first consequence until a final announcement is possible. It will be perfectly useless to resort to me for corroboration of any report because I shall have absolutely nothing to announce. No announcement will have the least authority that is not made over my own signature. These are matters which must be determined by very deliberate counsel and not by gossip."

There is every reason to believe that Woodrow Wilson, both as Presidential nominee and President-elect has not only not discussed the framing of a cabinet with anybody, but will not make any final decision until after he maps out his own course of action with regard to his administration. From his announced intention of being the "best listener in the United States" for a few months, it is probable that until he has talked with party leaders and taken counsel with people all over the country he will not let his mind deal specifically with appointments.

The President-elect said tonight that he considered the time between his election and his inauguration a period in which he should listen very carefully to the ideals of men enlightened and informed on National questions and that it was a "public duty" for him to do so.

The President-elect was confronted tonight with reports about his proposed vacation. He said any definite announcement that he was going to the Bermudas was not authorized.

"For the very reason that I am going away to rest," he added, "I will have no announcement of my plans to make until the day before I start." He said if he did take a sea trip he certainly would not go on a private yacht, but would go as any other person would on a regular steamer. He is anxious for a vacation and it is likely he will get away within a fortnight.

Governor Wilson had a busy time with his correspondence and telegrams today. Callers came in a steady procession in spite of the rain and muddy roads. President Edwin A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia, and Dean Richard Dabney, of the same institution, paid a visit of compliment. Peyton Cochran and Col. Armistead Gordon, both of Staunton, Va., the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson, came to invite him to visit the little town again. They told him they were arranging for a "birthplace jubilee" for him. He promised to come and they left it to him to select a convenient date. The President-elect said it probably would be during the month of December, though he was not sure whether it would be on or near his birthday, December 28th, when he will be 56 years old.

Big Day for Staunton.

Staunton, Va., Nov. 7.—Staunton, the place of Governor Wilson's birth, is planning to make the President-elect's home coming jubilee in December one of the biggest days in the State's history. Every city in the State is expected to be represented in the celebration.

ALLEN JURY DISMISSED.

Prospective Juror Had Discussed Case in Presence of Others.

Wytheville, Va., Nov. 7.—After a jury had been secured in the Wythe county Circuit Court here today for the trial of Sidna Allen on an indictment charging him with the murder of Judge Thornton L. Massie, the defense moved that the jury be dismissed. Immediately the prosecution joined in the request, and the court so ordered. Another venire of 50 men will be summoned from Grayson county.

In the examination of prospective jurors today it developed that one of them had discussed the case in the presence of the others and this was apparently the reason for the motion of the defense to dismiss the jury first selected. Court adjourned until Monday.

Seward, Alaska, Nov. 7.—A sharp earthquake shock of two and a half minutes duration was felt here at 10 o'clock last night. No damage was done, but many persons fled into the streets.

BIG SHAKE-UP IN THE COMMITTEES

Important Ways and Means Committee Was Riddled by the Election

CHANGES IN CHAIRMANSHIPS

Formation of Wilson Cabinet May Alter List of Prospective Chairmen—Representation on Non-partisan Boards

Washington, Nov. 7.—Although Democratic control of the House of Representatives by a greatly increased majority is assured, a general shake-up of the personnel of the important House committees in the next Congress will be necessary.

The all-important Ways and Means Committee—which will shape into bills the tariff policies of the Wilson administration, was riddled by the election. Of the 14 Democrats on the committee, four will not return. Two of these, however, Hughes, of New Jersey, and James, of Kentucky, go to the Senate. Randell, of Texas, and Brantley, of Georgia, are retired. Out of the seven Republicans on the committee but two apparently will remain. John Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, and Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts, for years shapers of the Republican tariff policy, were not candidates at the polls and Ebenezer Hill, of Connecticut; James Needham, of California, and probably Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, were beaten. Serero E. Payne, of New York, and Joseph W. Fordney, of Michigan, may be the only Republicans left. The election of Representative Sulzer as Governor of New York, leaves vacant the chairmanship of the important Foreign Affairs Committee. Flood, of Virginia, is ranking member of the committee, but he declined the chairmanship two years ago to accept the less important Territories Committee. Either he or Gardner, of Texas, is expecting to get the place.

The election of Morris Sheppard, of Texas, to the Senate, if seniority is followed, will move Representative Burnett, of Alabama, to the chairmanship of the Public Buildings and Grounds Committee which handles the big public buildings so-called "pork barrel" bill. The vacancy at the head of the Public Lands Committee caused by the failure of Representative Robinson, of Arkansas, to return, probably will be filled by moving up Representative Graham, of Illinois, at present chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the Interior Department.

The Banking and Currency Committee, investigating the so-called money trust, will be without a head, Representative Pujo, of Louisiana, having retired. Representative Carter Glass, of Virginia, is the ranking member of the committee.

The retirement of Representative Lamb, of Virginia, as head of the Committe on Agriculture, opens this place for Representative Lever, of South Carolina, but Mr. Lever would be forced to give up the chairmanship of the Education Committee, which would probably go to Representative Ansberry, of Ohio.

This accounts for all of the chairmanships left vacant by the election, but the formation of the Wilson cabinet may further alter the list. Representative Henry, of Texas, chairman of the Rules Committee; Representative Burleson, of Texas, a mem-

OUTLINES

President Taft yesterday issued a proclamation setting aside November 28th for the observance of Thanksgiving Day.

Although Democratic control of the House by an increased majority is assured a general shake-up of the personnel of the important committees in the next Congress will be necessary.

As more complete returns from the election came in yesterday, Wilson's electoral vote continued to increase, Illinois finally going to him after being first conceded to Roosevelt. California wavered between the two all day and then went to Wilson, while Roosevelt gained Minnesota. It is estimated that Wilson's popular vote will lack about a million of equalling the combined vote of Taft and Roosevelt.

The Democrats were assured yesterday of the control of the next Senate.

Jack Johnson was indicted yesterday by a Federal grand jury on four counts for alleged violation of the Mann Act.

Little news was received yesterday from the seat of the Balkan war and it was thought that the armies were preparing for a decisive battle, or were engaged in one. The reported fall of Saloniki and Monastir was premature.

Swindlers of international reputation were arrested in New York yesterday for defrauding Dr. J. W. Powell and K. C. Sidbury, of Wilmington, N. C., of $25,000 in a wire-tapping game.

New York markets: Money on call steady, 4 3-4 to 6 per cent; ruling rate 5; closing bid 4 1-2; offered at 4 3-4. Spot cotton closed steady. Flour steady. Wheat steady; No. 2 red 1.06; corn steady; export 56. Turpentine and rosin steady.

CLEVER SWINDLE WAS WORKED HERE

Wire-Tappers Arrested in New York, Upon Complaint From Wilmington.

PROFESSIONAL MEN FLEECED

Dr. J. W. Powell and K. C. Sidbury, Esq., Reported to Have Lost $25,000 to Sharpers of International Reputation.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 7.—On the complaint of Dr. J. W. Powell and Kirby Cleveland Sidbury, a lawyer, both of Wilmington, N. C., the New York police arrested two men on a charge of having defrauded the Southerners out of $25,000 through a wire-tapping swindle. Sidbury identified one of the prisoners as a man who posed as a telegraph company official. The lawyer says he lost $22,000.

The prisoners gave the names of "Charles Daly" and "Frank Graham." The police have them booked, however, as Charles H. and Frank Gondorf, notorious for years as swindlers.

The police arrested a third man whom they described as an international swindler and the originator of the wire-tapping game. He gave his name as John Kay, but the police say he has often posed as "Sir John Gray," and that he has been more widely known as "Paper Collar Joe."

On complaint of Simon Jones, of Pittsburg, Pa., that he lost $20,000 in the same sort of swindle as that to which the Southerners fell victims and in the same house, Charles Carbonel also was arrested. All the prisoners were held in heavy bail for examination next week.

In the case of the Southerners, it is alleged $5,000 was spent in staging the swindle. A "steerer" from New York, with his wife, took up residence in Wilmington and entertained lavishly and through them Dr. Powell and Sidbury were told how to "beat a game" in New York.

Although "Paper Collar Joe" gave his name as Kay, his real name is Krakowski. He is more than 60 years old, and, according to the police, has been a confidence man practically all his life. One of the notable cases in which he figured was the swindling of a man named Kole out of $103,000 in a fixed card game at Naples.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Nov. 7.—Charles Gordon, king of the wire tappers of New York, and his brother, Fred, who usually is mixed up in all the wire tapping schemes of Charles, were arrested and displayed as prisoners at police headquarters this afternoon by Deputy Commissioner Dougherty, charged with having engaged in a conspiracy by which J. H. Powell, a dentist of prominence and Kirby Cleveland Sidbury, a lawyer and real estate dealer, both of Wilmington, N. C., were swindled out of $25,000 by the wire tapping game in this city, the former for $3,000 cash and the latter for $22,000 on September 13th, October 2nd and October 26th. Mr. Sidbury states that he has his home at 1010 Market street, Wilmington, and is a close friend and neighbor of Powell.

Sidbury picked Charles Gondorf out of a line of a dozen at headquarters this afternoon as the man who manipulated and steered the entire swindle on himself and his friend Powell, although he did not recognize Fred Gondorf, the brother.

The story of how these respectable and responsible citizens of Wilmington fell for this old moth-eaten swindle which for 25 years has been exploited in the newspapers in every quarter of the country, is as follows: The real promoters and steerers of the game, who put up the necessary capital, have not been given out by Dougherty, although the police commissioner says he knows that Fred Gondorf was certainly implicated and others whose arrests will shortly follow. One of the steerers of the game whose name has not yet been disclosed appeared in Wilmington last May and rented a cottage. He was accompanied by his wife who posed as an invalid, and announced his intention of settling in that little city and buying a farm in the neighborhood as a permanent residence. Soon after reaching Wilmington this steerer called with his wife on Dr. Powell and engaged him to look after her teeth and soon after was on the most genial terms with the dentist, the families visiting back and forth. The steerer was confidential from the first and confided to Dr. Powell that he had solved a secret of living in luxury without working. It was all on the scheme of beating gamblers at their own game. He said that New York was full of pool rooms where bets were laid on all the races to pick the winning steeds, and that all these pool rooms get all their information as to winners from the racing department of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The steerer assured Dentist Powell that he was a close personal friend of Manager McDonald, superintendent of the Western Union company racing bureau, to whom, before it was given out to any person or pool room, it was seen and inspected, he having the power to hold the racing

ARMIES REST FOR DECISIVE BATTLE

Report of the Evacuation of Saloniki and Monastir is Premature.

DIPLOMATIC EFFORTS FAIL

Public Opinion In Constantinople Strongly Opposed to Idea of Seeking Peace—Army Is Confident

London, Nov. 7.—The last 24 hours have brought little news of importance from the seat of war. The report that Saloniki has been evacuated is premature and a similar report concerning Monastir still is unconfirmed. There is no authentic news of the alleged defeat of the Turks before Tchaltiaja.

On the contrary a Constantinople dispatch sets forth the Turkish claim that there are no Bulgarians before Tchaltalja and that both armies are resting. The Turkish reports regarding the progress of the war, however, have been so consistently misleading as to have little value.

The present lull in news may mean that some important action is proceeding. In the meantime, diplomatic efforts to end the war are making no progress and the European press is busy discussing all aspects of the settlement of the difficult questions. Everything tends to show that almost irreconciliable antagonism will arise over the relocation of Turkish territory. Servia claims as her share a large part of Albania, including the Adrianic ports of Durazzo, Alessio and San Giovanni, Di Mua. According to the Servian premier's statement to the Paris Temps the allies desire the partition of European Turkey, leaving the fate of Constantinople to the decision of the powers. According to reports current in Berlin the intention of the allies is to divide Albania between Servia and Greece, but an agreement already exists between Austria and Italy which would be supported by Germany, guaranteeing the integrity and independence of Albania and the triple alliance is determined to prevent Servia at all costs, from reaching the Adriatic. It is even asserted that the triple alliance has agreed to make Albania independent, with the Duke of the Abruzzi as king.

Another important meeting took place at Bucharest today between the Roumanian premier and the Russian and Austrian ministers. It is reported that the powers tomorrow will communicate to the Balkan States Turkey's request for mediation.

Turks Will Prosecute War

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—Public opinion in Constantinople is strongly opposed to the idea of seeking mediation or peace. Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, has reported to the government that the army is determined to fight until victorious or absolutely defeated. He regards the reverses sustained as unfortunate, but says the brave Ottoman army is confident of ultimate success and that the whole corps of officers is unanimous in favor of continuing the war.

The principal officers in Constantinople have handed the grand vizier, Kiamil Pasha, a signed declaration in the same spirit and the party of Union and Progress promises to suppore the government in the policy of prosecuting the war with energy. These considerations are having weight with the government.

Meanwhile, there have been no developments at the front. Reconnaissances by the Eastern army today before Tchorlu failed to show the presence of any Bulgarians, but Nazim Pasha reports that a Bulgarian reconnoitering party was repulsed about four miles from Rodosto.

So far as can be learned here there has been little change in the military situation in the last 24 hours. A sort of self-imposed armistice obtains on the Thracean plains. Both sides appear to require time to rest and reorganize after their recent exhaustive efforts.

It is believed by the Turkish officials that probably a week will elapse before hostilities are resumed along the Tchatalja lines, which battle is expected to decide the campaign unless peace comes to spare the belligerents further carnage.

The rumor that Saloniki has been occupied is not confirmed, but it is known the town is hard pressed. Mussulman refugees continue to arrive at the outskirts of the capital from practically the whole country south of the Bulgarian advance lines. The scene outside the city walls at the Adrianople gate is one of direful distress. Men, women and children, carts and cattle are hurdled together. The authorities are trying to supply the immediate wants of the refugees and have decided to send them to Asia Minor.

The ambassadors of the five powers held a meeting this morning at the Porte and met the Grand Vizier and the foreign minister. It is understood they discussed measures of public safety and the question of mediation, but nothing is known of the decisions reached. The powers have made no move with refernce to mediation.

STATE MAJORITY IS SATISFACTORY

North Carolina Piles Up Largest Democratic Majority on Record.

RETURNS FROM COUNTIES

Chairman Webb Leaves for Home After Signal Victory in Tuesday's Election—Gives Out Statement—Fine Victory.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7.—Before closing State Democratic headquarters and leaving for his home in Asheville tonight State Chairman Chas. A. Webb said:

"We have won the greatest victory in the history of the Democratic party in the State. We have given Woodrow Wilson a majority of 60,000 over both his opponents, which is the greatest majority ever given a Democratic candidate for the Presidency. Hon. Locke Craig has been elected Governor according to the best information which we are able to receive by a majority of 62,500. He has received a plurality over Hon. Iredell Meares, of 102,000, and a plurality over Hon. Thomas Settle of 125,000. We have elected ten Democratic Congressmen by overwhelming majorities, the smallest majority being that of Congressman Gudger, from the Tenth, where his majority was not less than 2,500. We have elected 47 Democratic State Senators, including the extreme western district that was at first in doubt. We have elected 106 members of the lower House of the Legislature. We have elected for the first time in its history a Democratic Representative from Henderson county. We have also elected a Democratic Representative from Brunswick county and carried the county for the entire Democratic ticket, which is the first time this county has gone Democratic in 15 years. Only one county in the eastern part of the State has elected Republican candidates and that is the county of Sampson.

"This victory is sufficient to cause every Democrat in the State to rejoice. The Democratic party in the Nation, with Woodrow Wilson as President, and in the State, with Locke Craig as Governor, and Democratic officers of high character and efficiency, is in a position to give the people the best administration of their affairs within the history of the Republic for all of which we are profoundly grateful."

Mr. Webb also expressed his deep appreciation to the thousands of Democratic workers and assistants in every section of North Carolina, without whose help and aid, the labors of the committee would have been unsuccessful; also the State Democratic press, the newspaper correspondents and for cordial and loyal support in keeping the public informed of the progress of the campaign and whose advocacy of the Democratic cause was a powerful force in the great victory. Mr. Webb and Secretary W. E. Brock, who also left for home today, will return to Raleigh November 14th, for the meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee, when the vote cast in the Senatorial primary will be canvassed and officially determined.

TELEGRAMS IDENTIFIED.

Government Contends Activity of Labor Leaders Preceded Explosions.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—Four months' activity of labor leaders on the Pacific coast preceded the fatal explosion at Los Angeles, according to letters and telegrams identified by the government at the trial of the 45 accused dynamite plotters today.

From telegrams and letters read to the jury, the government set forth this part of its contention as follows:

Four months before the Los Angeles Times building was blown up, Eugene A. Clancy, a labor leader in San Francisco, who had been instructed to investigate labor conditions in Los Angeles, telegraphed to John J. McNamara, in Indianapolis, "the fight is on in Los Angeles. We are going to win. Send Hockin at once."

McNamara, after referring the request to Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers, wired Clancy, "better get a man in Los Angeles to do the work. Hockin to buy the East."

Clancy went to Seattle and on August 16, 1910, H. W. Pohlman, a labor leader there, wrote J. J. McNamara, "Clancy met his man here after waiting a week for him. I think I understand the situation."

James B. McNamara was then in Seattle and the government charges that Clancy met him there. On August 31, an office building under construction in Seattle was blown up.

At this time $1,000 was voted by the Iron Workers Union executive board to the California Building Trades Council for use in promoting the union at Los Angeles. A receipt for the amount, signed by Olaf A. Tveitmoe, secretary of the council, was produced.

The government contends the correspondence shows that McNamara's mission to the Pacific coast was known to Clancy, Tveitmoe and to J. E. Munsey, Salt Lake City, who is charged with harboring the dynamiter for two weeks after the explosion.

Testimony that dynamite was taken to the Iron Workers headquarters in Indianapolis to within a few weeks before the McNamaras were arrested, was given by Martin J. Hyland, chief of police in Indianapolis. He identified newspapers which had been wrapped about four packages of dynamite. They were newspapers from Cleveland, Pittsburg and Cincinnati, the latest being dated April 3rd, 1911.

READY FOR NEW LAW.

MacVeagh Completes Regulations for Entry of Shipbuilding Material.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Secretary MacVeagh, of the Treasury Department, today completed the regulations which will govern the importation of shipbuilding material, in accordance with the act passed at the last session of Congress.

The regulations which will be made public in a day or two, provide, it is understood, for the free entry of wireless apparatus, sails and rigging, as part of the equipment of a ship. These have ben disputed points.

It was necessary for the department to define what is equipment, and what is a vessel. The law applies only to "vessels", and according to reliable authority, it is held that a vessel is a craft of five tons or more, that is, documented or registered ships. Consequently, free entry is not accorded to materials for racing shells and other small craft.

The regulations, it is said, will admit bolts, nuts, rivets, plates and the like, which go into the construction of the ship of its machinery. Engines or auxiliary machinery, such as pumps, dynamos, etc., set up or knocked down will not come in free, because the law specifies materials for the construction of machinery. Furniture, china and glassware will be admitted as equipment.

Dealers, it is declared, will not be permitted to stock their places with free ship materials, but must make the importations for specific purposes. The Treasury Department will undertake the mammoth task of tracing the articles into consumption.

Free equipment will be allowed only once, it is said. That is, a vessel cannot from time to time replace its equipment as it is worn out.

Flagged Train With Shirt.

Tearing his shirt from his back an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." CLEVER SWINDLE WAS WORKED HERE news up for as long as ten minutes after it was received by him over the wires from the various tracks. The scheme seemed very simple and plausible. McDonald learns that a certain horse wins a certain race, he holds back the information but gives it to a confidential friend who immediately goes to a pool room and with McDonald holding up the news, he can place a bet after the horse has really won but has not been announced in the room and his profit on the bet is only measured by his investment. Of course, McDonald gets half of the winning. All this sounded extremely good to Dentist Powell and his friend Lawyer Sidbury, and they decided that the prosperous visitor from New York was a very wise man; in fact, they hinted, it is stated, that inasmuch as he was about to become their permanent neighbor and fellow citizen, he might make them an intimate friend and devoted supporter in the community if he would let them in on the game and give them a chance to make a bit of easy money. So the trio came to New York on September 12th, each having $3,000 to invest on the "goodthing" game and put up at the Hotel Seville, Madison avenue and Twenty-ninth street. There, the steerer made the telephone wires hot for the wonderful Mr. McDonald, racing manager of the Western Union Company's track news, and a naturally bejewelled, richly-dressed individual, answering to that name appeared and was introduced, taking them out to dinner and to the theatre and other pastimes afterward. The next day they were taken to a pool room with all its bustling activity of employes in shirt sleeves and men with huge wads of bills wagering thousands on the coming afternoon's races. Those prosperous-looking individuals were pointed out as some of New York's wealthiest and best known business men, bankers and brokers. They soon adjourned to the Hotel Endicott, the pool room having been at West Eighty-first street. There they met McDonald with ear glued to a telephone and greatly excited. He told them to hurry their $3,000 bets at once on a horse called "Flying Fairy," supposed to have just run at the Laurel, Maryland, races. They gave their money to the steerer who rushed for the pool room returning an hour later weeping and crestfallen, having lost the money as the horse ran second and not as winner. McDonald flew into a great rage, denounced the steerer in most profane and boisterous language, declaring that he had explicitly directed that the bet be the horse to run second and the steerer cringed under the tongue lashing. With their cash gone Sidbury, Powell and the steerer returned to Wilmington, the victims not in the least suspecting that they had been swindled and Sidbury decided to try his luck again, and even as soon as September 30th, he was again in New York with $7,000, which he promptly lost. Sidbury is a good sport. He did not even feel that he was a victim of anything but a mischance. Going to a bank the next day he cashed a draft for $7,000 more and this he bet on a horse called Mission and the seven went to join his other $10,000. Sidbury went back to Wilmington October 3rd, but he wasn't through and October 20th he returned to New York with the steerer and dropped $5,000 more on a horse called Frederick I. He then began to get suspicious and this alarmed the steerer, who got wise and he and his invalid wife flew the coop, Wilmington knowing them no more. Sidbury came to New York November 4th and told his story to Commissioner Dougherty, who sent out his detectives and captured the Gondlofs in their saloon on Eighty-second street and Amsterdam avenue. They will be promptly indicted next week.

Dr. J. W. Powell was in the city yesterday, but left last night, presumably for New York city, though it was stated at his home that he had not gone to New York He is quoted as saying before he left that he knew absolutely nothing about the affair in New York. Mr. Sidbury was reported to have been in the city yesterday, but this is evidently a mistake. It was said at his home that he was out of the city. He had been expected here this afternoon, having several important engagements. Mr. Sidbury has spent much of his time during the past two or three months in New York. He and Dr. Powell have been associated in a number of real estate transactions and have been interested in the proposition of building a large apartment house here.

CONTINUE CAMPAIGN

Chairman McCombs Will Make National Committee Permanent

New York, Nov. 7.—Chairman William F. McCombs, of the Democratic National Committee, said today he was not prepared to discuss plans which had been laid before President-elect Wilson yesterday, but intimated that within a few days he would make an announcement concerning the future activity of the National Committe and himself.

A meeting of the committee probably will be called within the next two weeks, and resolutions in favor of continuing the committee as a working institution throughout the Wilson administration will be presented. The idea is that of conducting a continual campaign for the education of the people in Democratic doctrines.

Chairman McCombs announced tonight that he would start soon on a two months' vacation, probably at Hot Springs, Va.

"Until I return," he said, "I would prefer to say nothing of what I shall do. I have not even given it a thought except to suggest that the National Committee be made a permanent working institution."

Someone asked whether he might accept a place in the Wilson cabinet. The chairman said he did not know anything about the matter. "Governor Wilson is the man who selects his cabinet," he said, "and how do I know what he intends to do?" He intimated, however, that he might prefer to remain at the head of the National Committee.

BIG SHAKE-UP IN THE COMMITTEES

ber of the Appropriations Committee, and Representative Underwood, head of the Ways and Means Committee have been mentioned as cabinet possibilities.

Representation Precedents

Washington, Nov. 7.—Statements by Progressive party leaders that they will expect representation on non-partisan government boards, commissions, etc., has led to an examination here of the laws and precedents bearing on such appointments. This shows, it is declared, that the lawmakers, in creating non-partisan boards, and commissions, made no provision for the selection of members from minority parties. Consequently, the general rule has been merely to prohibit more than a majority of the members of these boards and commissions being selected from one party, nothing being said from what party or parties the minority shall be chosen.

In accordance with this, President Wilson would be legally free in most cases to select minority members from any of the minority parties.

The Hepburn rate law, increasing the number of members of the Inter-State Commerce Commission from five to seven, provides that "not more than four commissioners shall be appointed from the same party."

The law governing the appointment of three civil service commissioners provided that "not more than two of whom shall be adherents of the same party." The law creating the board of general appraisers at New York provides that "not more than five of whom shall be appointed from the same political party."

It is generally recognized that the question of moral support for the demand for representation will be passed upon by the Democratic leaders alone.

In the House and Senate representation of Progressives on committees and commissions is likely to bring complications. In the last Congress, the Democratic majority required the Republican minority, the leading minority, to care for the Socialist member on the committee appointments. The general rule in both the House and the Senate is to allow the minority leader to make assignment of minority members or Senators to the respective committees.

Havana, Nov. 7.—The Philadelphia American League team defeated the Almendares nine here today by 8 to 5.

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. It is an emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. THE AGRICULTURAL WORKERS

Southern Association in Raleigh—State Building Commission—First Democrat in Fifty Years From Henderson.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7.—There convened today at 11 o'clock in the representatives hall of the State House the 14th annual convention of the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers, the sessions to continue through Friday and Saturday. The attendance is quite good and an interesting and profitable session is assured.

Major W. A. Graham, North Carolina's Commissioner of Agriculture, is president of the association, and Dr. B. W. Kilgore, State chemist for North Carolina, is secretary. The visitors were welcomed by Governor Kitchin and the response was by Dr. W. M. Riggs, president of Clemson College.

Major Graham delivered his annual address, which was notable. He made a plea for more intensive farming "more to the acre and not more acres", being the slogan that he urged should be adopted in Southern farming. He urged the necessity of farmers of the South growing their own provisions, declaring that farmers of this section are today paying $475,000,000 for supplies that could be more profitably produced at home. The work of analysis of fertilizers, extermination of hog cholera, the cattle tick and the growing of beef cattle and hogs by Southern farmers were treated at length as vital Southern industries. The improvement and increase of the apple crop and of many varieties of fruits and truck were urged, the commissioner insisting that while the States comprising the association membership are termed the Cotton States, the fact is that there are many other crops as profitable and numbers of them more profitable than cotton in the South. The association has members in nine States—North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Tennessee.

News from Henderson this morning is that the police there believe they have captured Aaron Faison the negro who seriously wounded Peter Horton, a white man, at a saw mill near Zebulon a few days ago. There is $100 reward by the State for the negro.

There was a special meeting of the State Building Commission today to make arrangements for temporary heat for the new fire-proof State building now being completed. Heat is required to properly carry on the wall finish work and the regular heating plant cannot be installed until the next Legislature provides for it, as this item was not included in the appropriation for construction. The building will be completed ready for occupancy by February 15th, according to present plans. The building commission consists of Col. Ashley Horne, Mr. W. E. Springer, Wilmington; Mr. J. Elwood Cox, High Point; W. L. Parsons, Laurinburg, and A. S. Rascoe, Bertie.

It really looks like the Democratic party is now the only one that is, under the State election law, entitled to recognition as a political party in the appointment of county boards of elections and poll holders. The law requires that a party must have a vote of 50,000 for Governor in the previous election to entitle it to recognition. Now there are strong indications that Settle has received not more than 35,000 and that Meares, the Bull Moose candidate, is to have less than the 50,000 minimum.

A telegram to Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman today brought the news that J. P. Patton is elected to the Legislature from Henderson county as a Democrat, this being the first time this county has sent a Democratic representative in 50 years.

First Dance of Season—Alumni Notes—Improvements in Progress

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wese Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7.—Saturday in Pullen Hall, the first dance of the season was given by the Battalion Cotillon Club, and was greatly enjoyed by about 25 couples. The figures were led by Capt. E. J. Jeffries, the club leader. The music was furnished by Faulte's orchestra, of Raleigh.

Mr. W. S. Dean, '09, has been appointed assistant technologist for the United States government. Mr. Dean has recently been engaged in the Locke Erwin mills at Concord.

Mr. J. H. Johnson, formerly instructor of Agronomy at A. & M., and who has recently been in the employ of the government in Texas, has been transferred to North Carolina, where he will be farm management specialist for the National Department of Agriculture, with headquarters in Raleigh.

On Tuesday night in Pullen Hall, the students had the pleasure of receiving the election returns which came in over a private wire, and were thrown on a large canvas. Nearly every student was present and were very enthusiastic over the results.

Many noticeable improvements are now in progress on the A. & M. campus. A tract of land just east of the campus has been purchased, and a small wooden church building and several frame store buildings which were on this land, are now being torn down. A stone arch gateway will be constructed, and a new road will be made, leading from the gateway to Holliday Hall, and the rest of the land planted in grass.

The only three textile papers in the State are all edited by A. & M. graduates. Mr. A. E. Escott, 1906, is editor of the Mill News; Mr. David Clarke, of the class of 1895, is owner and editor of the Textile Bulletin, and D. H. Hill, Jr., of the class of 1909, is assistant editor of this paper. G. G. Simpson, of class of 1908, is editor of the Textile Manufacturer.

As there will be no football game played by A. & M. Saturday, much interest is being taken in the annual cross-country run, which will take place on that date. The course will be from the capitol out Hillsborough street to the Fair Grounds and back, a distance of three miles. There will be four prizes, and probably about 25 contestants.

U. D. C. STATE ORGAN.

First Issue Makes Its Appearance at Kinston—Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 7.—The first number of "Carolina and the Southern Cross," a publication which is to be the official organ of the North Carolina Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, having Kinston as its place of issue, is just from the press. The magazine is of about 28 double-column pages, and will be issued monthly. Its object is to secure that part of North Carolina's history which has not been recorded, and to keep alive the traditions and achievemnts of the State's people. The motto of the periodical is "History, Not Hatred, Nor Sectional Strife." The current number, together with that of December, will be an introductory issue, and is devoted to Kinston, because of the patriotic generosity of the people of this city in assisting in the launching of the publication. Mrs. L. V. Archbell is the editor. The first subscription number will be issued in January. Among the features of the initial issue are a serial story which deals with the true experiences of a Southern woman during the civil war; a veteran's account of Foster's raid, a sketch of Gen. J. Bryan Grimes, and an account of the battles of Kinston, Whitehall and Goldsboro.

The first brick of Kinston's new $40,000 Christian church on Gordon street, were laid yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The foundation for the handsome structure has been completed for several days, and the actual work on the edifice itself marks the beginning of construction of the finest building owned by a congregation of this denomination in Eastern Carolina.

Dr. Ira M. Hardy, superintendent of the State School for the Feeble-minded here, will deliver an address before the Southern Medical Association, which is to have its annual session in Jacksonville, Fla., in a few days. Dr. Hardy's subject will be "Schools for the Feeble Minded, the State's Best Insurance Policy," one that has been carefully studied by him for many years, and which may be expected to arouse much interest.

Mrs. Susie Parrott Grainger, wife of Herman H. Grainger, one of this city's best known women, died after a brave fight against tuberculosis. Mrs. Grainger was 40 years of age, and was from one of the most prominent families of this section. She had taken a leading part in the city's social life, and was well known in many places in the State. She is survived by three sons, Jesse, Marion and Thomas, and four brothers, Messrs. Albert and Geo. F. Parrot and Drs. J. M. and W. T. Parrott, of Kinston. The funeral service was largely attended, and at the hour of the service the home offices of the North State Life Insurance Company were closed and the entire office force attended the last rites. Mrs. Grainger's husband being a stockholder and a brother of the medical director of the company. Rev. F. S. Love, of Queen Street Methodist church, preached the funeral service, assisted by Rev. Mr. Smith.

Mr. Albert E. Rountree, of this city, was married at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to Miss Mabel Lyon, at the home of the bride in Danville, Va. The wedding was a quiet one because of recent bereavement in the bride's family, and was attended by only a small number of friends and relatives of the couple. The groom is secretary of the North State Life Insurance Company here, and the bride is the charming daughter of Mr. P. T. Lyon, a Danville tobacconist.

Fine Work of Kitchin's Manager Reduces Simmons' Vote.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elizabethtown, N. C., Nov. 7.—Owing to the efficient management of Governor Kitchin's manager, Mr. J. Alden Lyon, the expected Simmons majority in this county did not materialize. Senator Simmons' majority in the county will hardly reach the 400 mark. Bladen has been looked upon as one of Simmons' strongholds and the returns from the different townships were rather disappointing to the Senator's friends who expected at least 600 majority.

DR. FRANK DUFFY DEAD

Passed Away Tuesday Night at Newbern of Typhoid Fever

(Newbern Journal, 6th.)

After an illness lasting for more than three weeks, Dr. Francis Duffy died at his home, No. 39 East Front street, shortly after 9 o'clock last night. Dr. Duffy was first taken ill with an attack of malarial fever and this later developed into typhoid. At first his condition was not thought to be serious but as the disease progressed he grew steadily worse and for several days past it was seen that there was no hope for his recovery and the end was not unexpected.

Dr. Duffy was born in Onslow county, the son of Dr. Charles Duffy, whose father was Dr. Charles Duffy, who came to the United States in the 30s. Most of his family have been physicians and druggists.

When about 1880 there was a requirement made that those practicing medicine should pass an examining board and secure a license, he was named as a member of the board and with him were such men as Dr. Lewis, of Raleigh, and Dr. Murphy.

By reason of the losses to the South from the war his boyhood was spent without school advantages. After the war the family fortune had diminished and he was thrown on his own resources. In this situation he would hoe cotton or plow corn and peanuts all day and at night study his books. When he reached the proper age, after doing this work, he was able to attend the University of Virginia and take the medical course at that institution. Leaving that with the testimonials he won he went to Philadelphia to one of its main medical colleges. From there he went to New York in Bellevue Hospital. Returning home to Onslow county he began the practice of medicine. Within a few years he came to Newbern where his grandfather first settled when he came to America. Here he worked in his profession, served people poor and rich. If the patient could not pay he served them just the same. He built up a practice and since that time no physician has stood higher in public estimation than he.

When he died he was acting assistant surgeon of the Marine Hospital service and also a member of the County Board of Health.

He had a large family connection in this country many of them arising from the kinship of ancestors who came to America and settled in Craven county in advance of his grandfather. Of his grandfather's descendants there are many in Craven county in places of honor and profit.

In 1904 he married Miss Lida Patterson. He is survived by his wife and three children: Miss Elizabeth, age 7 years; Francis, age 6 years, and Rodolph, age 4 years. He is also survived by three brothers, Messrs. Lawrence, Rodolph and Leinster Duffy, and two sisters, Mrs. George H. Simmons, of Catherine Lake, and Mrs. Mosley, of Little River, S. C.

The funeral will be conducted from the First Baptist church this afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. E. T. Carter.

The election was an l-opener to the Bull Moose.

Dr. Wilson will be in his natural element when he becomes the President of the Electoral College.

When a crisis calls for a man a great many men hear the call but the right one is generally the only one who gives the correct countersign.

Governor Wilson voted at Princeton, New Jersey, and cast a Democratic ticket straight from top to bottom. It seems that he knew what the people expected of him.

Honest injun—most all of us slipped up a little with our forecasts. We were correct in predicting that Woodrow Wilson would be first, but nobody had an idea that his gait would be like that of a run-away horse.

The small amount of ice which the Hon. Hi Johnson, of California, cut as a National figure in the campaign was illustrated when the Bull Moose was laid low by a crazy man's pistol. The Hon. Hi's size is entirely confined to California.

Virginia comes back as the "Mother of Presidents." A great many good men hapuened to be born in Virginia, such as Presidents Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Tyler, Taylor and Wilson. North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia are the stepmothers of Wilson.

A Republican doorkeeper of the House at Washington once boasted that he was "a bigger man than old Grant." His name is forgotten, while General Ulysses S. Grant's name will grow greater as history gets older. This shows that some men who fancy that they are the whole cheese are not even the skippers which now and then get the best of the cheese.

Taft smiled when he was being snowed under on Tuesday. Nothwithstanding the fact that it was the crucial day of his political career, he slept late on the morning of the election. He ate a hearty breakfast at the home of his brother, Charles P. Taft, in Cincinnati, and throughout the day smiled profusely and acted as though some 16,000,000 were not deciding upon his fate in American politics. He congratulated Governor Wilson upon his election. He is a good loser.

MANY REPUBLICANS VOTED THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The fact that thousands of Republicans voted the Democratic ticket on Tuesday is gratifying. That result of the campaign was altogether desirable, and that is precisely the reason why the National and State Democratic committees spent thousands of dollars to reach the voters by speakers and literature. The purpose of campaigning is to win votes from the opposition, and at the same time to revive the Democratic flame which flickers faintly in many a breast.

The landslide for Wilson was because of the Republican voters which the Democracy's great leader won for the Democracy. There could have been no other way for Wilson to have carried rock-ribbed Republican States. In Massachusetts, for instance, which for the first time was carried by a Democratic candidate for President, thousands of Republicans had to change parties in order to bring about so desirable a result.

The reason for this change of parties is best accounted for by Dr. Henry Wade Rogers, dean of the Yale Law School, a Republican of long standing. He voted for Wilson for President and Foss for Governor because he had made up his mind, he explains, "to punish the Republican party as the representative of the mercenary interests that have preyed upon the people for a generation." That was a powerful reason, but he adds: "I wanted to punish the Republican party for the sin of big business in partnership with crooked politics." Dr. Rogers further said he voted for Wilson "because the Democratic candidate possesses the energy, the ability, the courage, the independence, the respect for the constitution and the laws, which are so necessary if one is to fill the high office of President of the United States."

The truth is, a political change was imperative, and of the three parties in the contest the Democratic party was accepted as the one most to be depended upon for a change in the interest of the people. Confidence was inspired in the Democratic party because it had nominated a strong and able man for President. Thus we note how fortunate it was for the Baltimore convention to have had the wisdom to nominate a man like Wilson, with the prestige, the learning, the capability, the patriotism and the high purpose to restore the government to the people.

Of course, the landslide for Wilson and Marshall was because of the fact that the Republican party was divided against itself. The cause of that division is precisely that given by Dr. Rogers. The Republican party's alliance with the predatory interests was so manifest that patriotic and lifelong Republicans could no longer regard it as a friend of the people. That accounts for the fact that the Republican party's nominee received only 12 votes out of 531 in the Electoral College.

The Republican party had betrayed the people into the hands of the trusts, and whatever issues may have been sprung by the Bull Moose, the people knew that the only issue was the tariff and the trusts, twins so closely related that it is not necessary to mention their kinship and oneness. The Star emphasized those as the issues and to save our lives we could not see any other issues and if there were others their importance was so insignificant in comparison that the people never took them seriously.

In North Carolina it is complained by some Democrats that 50,000 Republicans participated in the Democratic Senatorial primary. If they did they voted the Democratic ticket and qualified themselves to vote in a Democratic primary. However, we have no idea that 50,000 Republicans voted the Democratic ticket in North Carolina, but we have heard Simmons men express the belief that 10,000 Republicans turned their backs on their old party. We don't believe even that many changed parties but it would be nothing to complain about if a hundred thousand had come over if they had ceased to have confidence in their party and desired to join the people's party.

It is incredible, under any circumstance, however, that many North Carolina Republicans would have deserted their party just to participate in a Democratic primary. They would have to do that in order to have taken a hand in the nomination of a Senator. Perhaps we may be able to judge better after all the Democratic vote in the State shall have been tabulated. The Democratic vote was larger than normal, and that is evidence that Republicans voted the Democratic ticket as well as participated in the primary.

"A NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM."

That is what the New York World (Dem.) styles the election of Woodrow Wilson and the landslide in favor of the Democratic party. That paper says editorially that "under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson the Democratic party has won its greatest victory since 1852." Then the World goes on to read this warning to the victorious party:

"But this victory is no tawdry partisan triumph. It is no vote of confidence in the Democratic party as a party. It is a mandate from the people, and woe be unto the leaders of this Democracy if they falter in obedience to that mandate.

"The country is seething with political discontent in spite of its unparalleled material wealth and prosperity. This discontent is confined to no particular class or section. Rich and poor alike, children of fortune and children of poverty, have begun to lose faith in the efficacy of their government to establish justice and promote the general welfare. They are not sure where the fault lies; they are not united as to the remedy; but this they know—that their institutions have been seized by privileged interests and turned against them; that subtle, mysterious forces operating unseen have proved time after time that their power over public affairs was greater than the power of the people as a whole, and they demand that their government be emancipated from this partnership.

"This is the great work that confronts Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party—to restore popular confidence in the institutions of the Republic and re-establish a government of the people, by the people and for the people. For 16 years the Republican party has been in continuous control of National affairs. In 1896 it polled 7,104,799 votes. In 1900 it polled 7,207,923 votes. In 1904 it polled 7,623,486 votes. In 1908 it polled 7,678,908 votes. But suddenly this seemingly invincible organization came crashing down to ruin because it had not kept the faith. The Democratic party in turn will go crashing down to ruin if it does not keep the faith."

The Star has said before that the result of Tuesday's election was an expression of confidence in Wilson and the Democratic party as well, but parties only inspire confidence to the extent that their leaders warrant that confidence. Since Wilson inspires confidence it logically follows that there is implied confidence in his party Necessarily he had confidence in the party himself, else he never would have accepted a nomination at its hands. It also is worthy of his confidence, for its principles have not changed and will not change because of the fact that he is its nominee. He is in accord with those principles and he has no new dogma to set up. He is now the chief interpreter of old principles applied to new conditions.

It may as well be said that any lack of confidence in the Democratic party has not been on the part of the people, but by and on account of interests which were fully aware that the Democratic party was dangerous only to special interests. Even with slush funds to buy up the voters in close States, the large popular vote for the Democratic party in previous elections shows that it never has lost the popular confidence to an appreciable extent. The Hon. William J. Bryan polled 6,409,104 votes in 1908, and really there has been little cause of lack of confidence in the Democratic party except that created by the privilege crowd with its fire alarm and money.

However, the World gives the best of reasons why the Democracy should follow the lead of President-elect Wilson. His ideals are those of the Democracy and any possible disagreement between him and his party could arise only from failure of its representatives in Congress to follow the Democratic President's method of wisely translating Democratic principles into safe and sane action.

CRAIG COMES INTO HIS OWN

Those who meet defeat should remember that the sun will continue to rise and set and that opportunities come to worthy men who wait. Locke Craig met defeat gracefully four years ago. Consistent loyalty to his party and principles emphasized his sturdy character. He sat steady in the boat and on last Tuesday he rowed ashore on a swelling tide.

The next Governor of North Carolina was grander in defeat than most men in victory. His manliness deeply impressed itself upon his fellow Carolinians and from defeat for the gubernatorial nomination four years ago he has emerged into a glorious triumph. By reason of merit of a magnificent kind, his party turned to him in this campaign and gave him its unanimous nomination for Governor. That was a small honor to that which awaited him at the hands of the men of North Carolina, for they have elected him Governor by the largest majority ever given a gubernatorial candidate in North Carolina.

The Star rejoices that it is so, and predicts that Craig will be one of the greatest and most popular Governors that the State has ever had. While he is a Democrat he will be the Governor of all the people. Men of all parties can honor him and expect at his hands a wise and conscientious administration. We are satisfied that it is against his personal interests to give four years of his service and devote his fine ability to the affairs of the people of North Carolina, but they will be the gainers by his sacrifice.

In numerous campaigns Mr. Craig has been conspicuous in winning victories for the Democratic party. Its gloom in defeat has been shared by him. He always has risen superior to his own personal defeats, and that is the best evidence of the nobility and grandeur which men can illustrate in their career. In this campaign he has been a splendid figure on the stump and has done a magnificant work in securing Democratic triumph. He was a strong force in the landslide for Wilson and Marshall, and it is like him to rejoice more over the National victory than over his own.

The Governor-elect is a fine type of Democrat. To our own knowledge he has fought in the forefront of its battles for a quarter of a century. He has been on the hustings from his mountain home to the blue waters of the Atlantic, and his heart was always in the fight. His eloquence and counsel have been devoted to the cause of the people, and the people know that no man can successfully put a stain upon his escutcheon. Locke Craig is true blue, and it is needless to say that Governor Craig will give his State an administration which will reflect the wisdom of his party for putting a great trust in his hands and for laying a deserved honor upon his shoulders. His administration will begin in January and it will be good for North Carolina and her people.

The concentrated wisdom of the Democratic party resulted in the nomination of Woodrow Wilson at Baltimore. The press and the Hon. William J. Bryan were forces in that concentration, the former before the convention and the latter in the convention.

CURRENT COMMENT.

While we did not pick Senator Simmons as our favorite in the race, nevertheless, it appears that a majority of the good Democrats of the State did and for this reason he is acceptable to us. The sooner the strained relations between Democrats is healed, which has evidently resulted from the heated campaign, the better will be the party chances in the State, and for continued Democratic rule to North Carolina, as well as the Nation, means good rule.—Rocky Mount Telegram.

Governor Wilson has succeeded without the use of any bonanza campaign fund. It is a glorious fact about his election that his administration is not mortgaged to the predatory rich. It will not be necessary for him to act ungratefully to anybody, because he owes no debts except to the whole people. Baltimore has reason to take a peculiar pride in the result of this election. It was here that the winner was nominated. Local sentiment helped greatly in shaping the result. Inside and outside the convention hall the force of local public opinion was brought to bear in favor of Woodrow Wilson. Baltimore will feel a keen personal interest in the new President. —Baltimore Sun.

Major Stedman's majority in this district is unprecedented. Probably it will reach 6,000—in any event it will be over 5,000. In this county his majority is estimated at betwen 1,800 and 1,900. In his own precinct in Greensboro, out of a registration of over 500, his opponent received only 54 votes. In Forsyth county he has a majority of approximately 400, while two years ago he lost the county. In fact, if they keep on there is no telling exactly what his official majority will be. He made thirty speeches in the campaign and never once mentioned the name of his opponent. What is more, by noon today, he had paid up every cent of the expense of the campaign. From all the above it appears that the Democrats in this district should keep on nominating old men. Taking Major Stedman as an example, they seem to be great favorites, especially when the old men are as young as the major.—Greensboro Record.

The political acumen of Senator Simmons has been long a matter of knowledge and comment throughout the State. Particularly has this characteristic been displayed in the selection of his campaign helpers and again was it particularly in evidence in his selection of Manager Cameron Morrison. Nominally, Mr. Morrison was understood to be a local manager, but his scope of service was State-wide. On several occasions he filled speaking engagements for Senator Simmons, himself, and on all occasions he put in some effective work for Locke Craig. He worked as assiduously in behalf of the Democratic nominee for Governor as he did for the party's endorsed candidate for the Senate. Throughout the State, Mr. Morrison made an excellent impression upon all. As speaker and organizer, Mr. Morrison made a creditable record for himself and one which has given no small degree of pleasure to his friends.—Charlotte Observer.

North Carolina again sends ten Democrats to the National House of Representatives, and this solid Democratic delegation adds to the overwhelming Democratic majority in that body. In every district of the State the nominees had already served the people, and their return to Congress is a tribute to the services they have rendered. And in each district it was by an increased majority that the Democratic nominees were elected. With the Democratic party in control in National affairs the representatives of North Carolina will be able to render larger services to the country at large, to the people of this State and to the Democracy. North Carolina rejoices that it again sends ten Democrats to the House. The Democracy of the State extends its heartiest congratulations to Congressman John H. Small, of Washington; Claude Kitchin, of Scotland Neck; John M. Faison, of Faison; Edward W. Pou, of Smithfield; Chas. M. Stedman, of Greensboro; Hannibal L. Godwin, of Dunn; Robert N. Page, of Biscoe; Robert L. Doughton, of Laurel Springs; Edwin Y. Webb, of Shelby, and James M. Gudger, of Asheville.—Raleigh News and Observer.

LET'S HAVE INCINERATOR

Citizen Tells Why Some Disposal Means Is Absolutely Necessary

Editor of The Star:

In the face of the able defense of the administration of the city's financial affairs, it seems remarkable that any of the Council should urge the impossibility of the city financing the incinerator proposition. With seven thousand dollars promised by the County Board of Commissioners and the proceeds of the sale of the city's property at Fourth and Princess streets assured, it would seem remarkable if our city government could not manage to raise the remaining thirteen or fourteen thousand dollars necessary for the purchase of the incinerator. It is also a source of considerable wonderment as to just why our local banks should refuse to discount the city's notes. Is the city really bankrupt?

We have been building a wall of filth around our town for many years. It has already kept many people away from here and we cannot afford to permit it to keep any more. The filthy trash heaps in the city, the deposits of carrion and garbage which greet every stroller and huntsman in the woods would be a shame to any civilized community. Every one who should know says these things cause sickness and death. Let us have the incinerator by all means.

CITIZEN.

NO REASON FOR DOUBT

As to the Merits of Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, in View of Such Evidence.

Tecumseh, Okla.—In a letter from this town, Mrs. Elisa Epperson, says: "I do believe that if it hadn't been for Cardui, the woman's tonic, I wouldn't have been living today.

I am so glad that I began taking Cardui when I did. Before I began using it I was in bad health and suffered conciderable pain in head, shoulders, back, side, limbs and lower part of my body.

Cardui helped me more than anything I ever did take, and I [illegible] ter health since taking it than I have been in four (4) years.

I shall never be without Cardui, the woman's tonic, in my home and will always recommend it to other ladies."

Can you doubt the merit of Cardui after reading the above letter? This is only one of many that we receive each year. Such testimony, from earnest women, surely proves the great value of this tonic medicine, for the ailments peculiar to their sex.

Cardui acts on the weakened womanly organs. It helps to refresh the wornout nerves, and is the ideal medicine for young and old.

As a tonic for women it has brought remarkable results.

As a remedy for women's ills, its friends say it has no equal.

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED

Basketball at Boys' Brigade Tonight Will Bring Out Followers of the Sport—Interest In Game Increases

Great and widespread interest is being manifested in the basketball games to be played at the Boys' Brigade tonight and the indication is for a record-breaking crowd if the weather is favorable. Possibly at no time in the history of this popular game in the city has the excitement or interest been so keen or general and as the games improve the crowd increases. The class of ball being played in this league surpasses anything of the kind ever before seen in the city and the games tonight will be no exception to this unless it is to show an improvement over past form.

There will be three games as usual. The first will be betwen th Y. M. C. A. Seniors and Company A, the second between the Y. M. C. A. Juniors and the Cardinals and the third between Company B and the Eagles. The Y. M. C. A. Seniors have been working hard this week to get into form for this game and all the men show marked improvement in their respective work guarding, goal-shooting and handling the ball. Either McKoy or H. Mercer will be added to the team tomorrow night and as both are good players their presence is expected to greatly strengthen the team. It is not yet decided whose places they will take though it is thought that all the players will be retained until all have been thoroughly tried out and the best men signed for the remainder of the season.

Captain Herman Gerdes has had his team, Company A, down for some hard work this week and they also show great improvement in their condition. Duls is getting his eye on the goal as is Hanson and Gerdes and they are expected to give a good account of themselves in this game which will be hard fought from first to last. This should be the star contest of the evening.

The Cardinals are hoping to take their game from the Y. M. C. A. Juniors and if they can play without fouling unnecessarily they should do good work tonight, but as they have a bad habit of losing many points to their opponents on fouls they always weaken their chances very materially. This is especially true of C. Davis who is a good guard as long as he keeps from fouling, but when once started he keeps it up regardless of results so that his work is greatly weakened and his value to his team less than it otherwise would be. However, Captain Irving is anxious to keep this player on the team and he has hopes of improvement which will make Davis one of the most valuable men he has. The remainder of the team is improving steadily and while they now play a strong, fast game they will soon round into form which will make them formidable opponents to any of the other teams. The Y. M. C. A. Juniors are also in fine trim for this game and as they are now in good condition they expect to capture this contest to add it to their other victories and remain in second place. The Eagles will be strengthened by the addition of R. Houston to their aggregation and this should materially add to their chances of winning as Houston is one of the best young players in the city and is always dangerous to the opposing guard. Both Charlie and Robert Burnett will be in this game and they should put up a good sample of basketball, as it should be played.

Company B is in the pink of condition as a result of regular practice which has greatly improved their goal-shooting, team play and speed so that any team that defeats them now will have to do remarkable work and they are improving every day. Some pretty work will be seen in these games tonight.

The first game will be called promptly at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to witness these games free of charge. Ladies are assured of the most courteous treatment. Seats to accommodate about 125 are provided so that all who attend the game may see every play perfectly. Mr. Chas. Dushan will referee the games.

The line-up of the various teams will be as follows: Y. M. C. A. Seniors—Straus and Mercer, forwards; Filyaw, center; Solomon, Starrett and McKoy, guards. Company A—Fick and Hanson, forwards; Gerdes, center; Duls and Kure, guards. Y. M. C. A. Juniors—Davis and Shephard, forwards; Farrar, center; Davis, K., and Johnson or LeGwin, guards. Cardinals—Irving and Davis, forwards; Huhn, center; Davis, C., and King, J. U., guards. Company B—Register, H., and Branch, forwards; Borneman, center; Register, E., and Sholar, guards. Eagles—Burnett, C., and Fowler, forwards; Houston, center; Burnett, R., and Gerdes, J. H., guards.

PROBABLY NO INCINERATOR

Notes City Offer to Give Are Not Bankable and Are Not Accepted by Incinerator Co.—Conference This Morning.

Following a special meeting yesterday morning at which it was explained that the notes offered by the city to the Decaire Incinerator Company as part payment for the proposed incinerator were not bankable as none of the banks in Wilmington would take them, and therefore, the company would have to decline to accept them, the City Council will hold a conference at 10:30 o'clock this morning in the hope that some way may be devised by which the proopsition may be financed so that the plant may be installed without further delay.

Mayor Joseph D. Smith presided with all members present. Also in attendance were Dr. E. J. Wood, a member of the County Board of Health; Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health; George Rountree, Esq., counsel for the Decaire company, and City Attorney Herbert McClammy. Mr. Rountree read the following communication:

"November 6th, 1012.

"To the Honorable, the Mayor and Councilmen of the City of Wilmington.

Gentlemen:—We have been employed by the Decaire Incinerator Company to represent them, and on their behalf we write to say that we greatly regret our inability to handle the notes offered by the Council in payment for the incinerator plant.

"Mr. McKee's proposition was to take a certain proportion of the cost of the plant in cash and the balance in notes running one, two, three and four years, provided the notes were bankable. Mr. McKee tried to negotiate these notes with some of the banks here, and for some reason was unable to do so. He then consulted us and got some papers and submitted the matter to the home office in Minneapolis, Minn. The home office consulted counsel there, who are experts in municipal indebtedness questions, and counsel for the banks there, and when they learned that the banks here had declined to accept the notes the home office found it could not use them as proposed.

"Our opinion is that the paper could be made good and that the Council could easily arrange to obtain money from the banks here by making short time notes; but, of course, it is not for us to suggest ways and means to this Council, which is entirely competent to solve its own problems.

"Our company is anxious to build the plant for this city, and, we are authorized to say, will make a reasonable discount for cash; but manifestly it cannot accept a paper which it cannot use in its business. We earnestly hope that the Council will see its way to make some arrangement for the payment of the plant, which will enable our clients to get the money for use in their business.

"Yours truly,

"ROUNTREE & CARR."

A rather lengthy discussion followed. Mr. Rountree emphasized the fact that his company is anxious to install the incinerator if proper financial arrangements can be made.

Councilman P. Q. Moore suggested that the Decaire company be relieved from the obligation if that was what the company desired. He said that the matter of financing the proposition had stood as an obstacle from the beginning. In his opinion trash, etc., could be destroyed in a kiln to cost from $2,000 to $2,500, and he could not see why an expenditure of $35,000 should be required. He remarked that he could not see the consistency of the County Board of Health in not allowing the burial of carcasses in the county six or eight feet beneath the surface, when nearly every day there are interments of human bodies in the cemeteries bordering on the different watersheds around the city.

Councilman B. C. Moore said that he thought the city could easily arrange to pay its portion of the cost of the incinerator, about $28,000, representing the four-fifths the city will have to pay. The county will pay one-fifth. The property at southwest corner of Fourth and Princess streets, he said, would bring about $15,000, leaving only $13,000 of the cost of the incinerator to be raised. He said that the balance could be divided into notes. He spoke of the importance of immediate action from the standpoint of the health of the city and county. Councilman Tiencken said that he thought the Council had taken quite enough on its shoulders and suggested that the incinerator proposition be held in abeyance for six months.

Dr. E. J. Wood and Dr. Nesbitt spoke of the importance of an incinerator from a health standpoint and as a citizen Mr. Rountree spoke heartily in favor of the purchase of an incinerator of some make, whether it was from the company he represented or not. As stated, no action was taken and Council will hold a conference this morning to discuss the matter further.

The canvassing board of New Hanover county was in session at the Court House all day yesterday to receive and compile the returns from the general election held Tuesday, but the work was not completed on account of the lack of blank abstracts and an adjournment was taken at 6:30 o'clock until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning unless called together earlier by the chairman. The board practically completed its work and the vote as tabulated and given in today's paper is approximately correct, although subject to some minor changes, as the final report of the board has not yet been made.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Negro Up for Trying to Pick a Man's Pocket Wednesday Night

Henry McCulloch, colored, was in the Recorder's court yesterday morning to answer a charge of pick pocketing on the circus grounds Wednesday night. McCulloch was seen by Officer D. W. Coleman to run his hand in another man's pocket and the officer put out after him. After a short chase the officer caught the negro, but when he returned he did not see the man the negro tried to rob. The man the negro was after probably never knew that any attempt had been made to pick his pocket. The case was left open for judgment until this morning.

John Lee, colored, was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct. John Henry, colored, paid $5 and costs for assault and battery on Henry McGathey, colored, and the latter was assessed a similar amount for assault with deadly weapon on the former. Cases against John Robinson and W. H. Mills, colored, charged with vagrancy, were left until today for judgment. Virgil Dry, colored, was found not guilty on a similar charge.

The case against Mr. J. W. Plummer, charged with obstructing the sidewalk by displaying fruits in front of his place on North Front street, was continued until Saturday.

New York, Nov. 7.—Directors of the National Sugar Refining Company voted today to take up the $10,000,000 issue of 6 per cent preferred stock given the late Henry O. Havemeyer, which the New Jersey courts recently held invalid on the ground that it was issued without consideration. The directors voted to pay par value for the stock out of the treasury and to issue $10,000,000 general stock, with no fixed dividend rate.

The Federal Point road has been graded to Bethany Branch, where it connects with the Masonboro road. Mr. McEachern said that the Federal Point road will be completed in a short time now as there is only about a mile and a half that has not been macadamized. Material for this work is carried down in carload lots and enough convicts are sent down to place a carload of material in one day.

Arbitrary Rule at Union Station Works Hardship on Many

The Star is asked to voice and voice loudly a protest against the arbitrary rule with reference to persons being admitted at the gate at the union station in this city, a card with reference to which was recently printed from ex-Mayor A. G. Ricaud. Attention was called yesterday evening to the case of a young mother with a sick baby from the country who was returning home on one of the evening trains. With her baby in her arms and a heavy suit case to carry, persons who accompanied her to the station were not permitted to enter the gate. The Star's informant says, and the poor woman was obliged to go to her train, leave her sick child and return outside for her suit case and pocket book which had to be left as she was unable to carry them all and her assistants to the station were not allowed to enter the enclosure without purchasing a ticket. The protest is voiced for what seems on the face of the report, a crying shame upon the traveling public.

Fine Bag of Mallards

The duck season having just opened, the first mallards were brought to the city yesterday evening by two Wilmington hunters, Messrs. Louis Hanson, Jr., and Mercer Gallagher, who went 32 miles up the river in Mr. Hanson's gasolene launch and succeeded in bagging 27 fine ones. This will perhaps establish a new one-day record for the remainder of the season.

—Services preparatory to communion will be held at the First Presbyterian church this evening at 8 o'clock.

Officer George is quoted as saying that he and Officer Coleman noticed a wagon that had only one city license tag and that they followed the vehicle to Mr. Sidbury's stables. He said he told Mr. Sidbury about the wagon having only one license tag, whereupon he was cursed by Mr. Sidbury, who attempted to strike him with a hatchet, being prevented from landing the blow by Officer Coleman who grabbed Mr. Sidbury's arm that held the weapon. WEDDING IN NORFOLK OF INTEREST LOCALLY

Many friends in Wilmington of the bride, who has frequently visited friends here, will be interested in the following account of her marriage from yesterday's Norfolk Virginian-Pilot:

"A wedding of interest in this section and throughout Virginia was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Wilkinson, 21 Bute street, when Miss Susan Pendleton Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Howard, of Boissevain avenue, became the bride of Mr. Hatwell Heath Hume, son of Mrs. John Hume, of Portsmouth.

"The rooms were charmingly decorated in white cut flowers, palms and Southern smilax, and the ceremony, which was witnessed by only the immediate families and a few intimate friends, was performed by the Rev. David W. Howard, rector of St. Luke's church.

"The bride was given away by her father. She wore a handsome gown of white embroidered charmeuse, en traine, and carried a shower of lilies of the valley. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms. The only attendants were her two sisters, Misses Bessie and Margaret Howard. The former was gowned in white satin charmeuse and carried pink Killarney roses, and the latter in pink charmeuse with pink roses. Dr. Joseph Hume, of Charlottecville, was his brother's best man.

"A brilliant reception followed the wedding, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hume left for a wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside in Norfolk."

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE ACADEMY TOMORROW NIGHT.

Under the auspices of the Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters what promises to be a most delightful entertainment will be given in the Academy of Music tomorrow night, when "The Would-be Society Woman" will be presented by some of the city's best talent. The production is a comedy and is bright and full of humor and always pleases. There are many amusing situations. The play tells the story of a woman, who, having become suddenly rich, spends her life trying to move in the more fashionable circles and her efforts to win friends among the people of prominence, shunning the honest but poor people, are bound to hold the interest of the audience. In addition there will be songs by a chorus and other features.

The cast of characters is as follows: Mrs. Fitzgerald Mandeville de Smythe, a would-be society leader, Miss Annie Futch; Miss Edith Morton, her niece, a Western heiress, Miss Lillian Styron; Miss Mabel West, a friend of Miss Morton, Miss Genevieve Dushan; Jane McCarthy, an Irish maid servant, Miss Anna Cavanaugh; Lord Chelsea, an English nobleman, Earl Penny; Jack Earl, his friend, a happy-go-lucky fellow, Fred Little.

The proceeds of the entertainment are to be given to the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training School at Concord, and aside from the pleasure one will surely get from the performance one should count it a rare privilege as well as a pleasure to thus contribute something toward the support of an institution worthy of all the support that could be given it.

Seats will go on sale at Plummer's today and continue through tomorrow. The reserved seats are 50 cents and the general admission 35 cents.

DELGADO BAPTIST CHURCH

"Get Acquainted Meeting" Last Night Was Fine Entertainment

In order that members of the congregation, officers of the church and the newly-elected superintendent of the Sunday School might get better acquainted with one another to the end that the work may prosper and proceed harmoniously, a "Get Acquainted Meeting" was held last night in the Delgado Baptist church for which the pretty new house of worship was crowded and those in attendance spent a most pleasant evening.

Mr. L. W. Moore, superintendent of the school, presided at the meeting, which was altogether of a social nature and most delightfully arranged in every respect. The exercises opened with prayer and the singing of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," after which 16 children of the school gave a spirited rendition of a song appropriate to the happy occasion. These features were followed by a recitation by little Miss Mary Huit, who recited "Little Brown Baby," which captivated her hearers in every way. "The Children's Story" was most interesting told by five little girls of the school and Miss Lucile Rilely favored the audience with a solo, immediately preciding a recitation, "What! Me Afraid?" by little Miss Hazel Newton. The beautiful Bible story of Jesus and the Children was prettily told in dialogue by Misses Rowena Evans and Lacy Ganey, after which little Virginia McCullen gave a beautiful rendition of "Stars of The Morning." After a song, "Sunbeams," and a well-rendered reading, "Other Side of the World" by Miss Pearl Grady, Dr. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, under the auspices of which the Delgado mission was established, made an interesting address, followed by Superintendent Moore, who told of his plans for the Sunday school and the great work which has been undertaken at Delgado. A reading "Mariah's Mourning" by Miss Mattie Maultsby, of Wilmington, was one of the closing features and this was much enjoyed.

Following the exercises the large crowd enjoyed a bountiful spread of refreshments. The Delgado church is now in a flourishing condition.

The baptistry has recently been completed and the solemn rites of baptism will be administered after the Sunday school on Sabbath afternoon.

We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles it has no equal. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1.00. ..Theatrical..

"Excuse Me" will be at the Academy next Tuesday night. "Excuse Me", is a farce chock full of laughter and merry entertainment. It has placed its author, Rupert Hughes, at the head of the list of American dramatists who set genuine native humor on the stage.

Incessant laughter is the sum of this farce. It aims only to make people laugh. Its purpose is to amuse, and it does this without stint. It is a merry, farce entertainment throughout, and sane at that, for while it is farce it is not horseplay or slapstick clowning. It is a play, a genuine play with episodes that might actually happen, persons whose counterparts really exist, and with crisp, brisk, snappy action and wit and comedy all the time. "Excuse Me" is ingenious, therefore, out of the ordinary. It represents a railway journey from Chicago to Reno and the stage settings are a Pullman sleeper and club car on an Overland Limited express train. The idea of a play on a moving train is unusual and novel. The passengers are women and men of the kind who thrown together on a trip like this would be sure to create comic happenings. There are elopers, and a fond couple who fancy temporarily that they had better separate, and a woman hater who is converted to matrimony by a woman missionary, and a country minister and his wife who try not to get found out, and an English tourist who can't engineer a sleeping berth and insists on his bath, and the most amusing conductor who ever ran a train, and a Pullman porter who is a whole entertainment, and a dog and a typical news "butcher," and all the amusing persons and funny episodes that ever made a railway trip memorable and interesting. Each couple has its own story of romance and adventures to lend zest to unexpected meetings and unforseen sequels and it all works into a delicious comedy as lively and brisk and amusing as can be imagined. The wide diversity of types in "Excuse Me" give opportunity for excellent comedy acting, and the company is ideal. It is a Henry W. Savage offering, and everything that has Mr. Savange's name is the very best. Nine months in New York, six months in Chicago, four months in Boston, and record runs in other cities are convincing proofs that "Excuse Me" is the best farce ever seen.

Seats will be on sale at Plummer's Monday morning.

At the Grand Theatre.

The feature at the Grand Theatre today will be Leonard Chick's rendition of the newest Irish song, "Nora, My Irish Queen." The illustrations for this song are as pretty as the music itself and patrons of the Grand are asked not to miss this number.

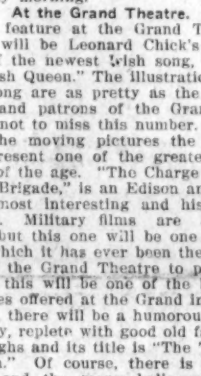
In the moving pictures the Grand will present one of the greatest pictures of the age. "The Charge of the Light Brigade," is an Edison and it is of a most interesting and historical nature. Military films are always good, but this one will be one of the best which it has ever been the pleasure of the Grand Theatre to present. While this will be one of the biggest features offered at the Grand in many weeks, there will be a humorous rural comedy, replete with good old fashioned laughs and its title is "The Thrifty Parson." Of course, there is a love story and the many ludicrous incidents and climaxes in the piece will keep the audience in a roar from start to finish.

In addition to these two there will be still a third film and it should be remembered that at the Grand the pictures will be put on with full realistic effects and complete orchestra. he price is always, of course, so small that nobody misses it.

At the Bijou.

The Bijou seems to have contracted the delightful habit of presenting the biggest moving picture stars daily, and which is decidedly pleasing to the hundreds of Bijou devotees. And, by the way, regardless of the very inclement weather, yesterday was a big one at this swell amusement palace, which truly attests the great popularity of the Bijou. Folks not only recognize a place of immense entertainment in the Bijou, but one of solid comfort.

In the leading film success today, "The Spider's Web", Mr. Maurice Costello, the well known romantic actor and one of the great favorites with those who love the "movies", will appear in the stellar role. The story is that of a wild cat mining scheme. Into the meshes of this get-rich-quick concern a banker becomes involved, and it takes the shrewd, manly work of his son, who is a young lawyer, to get him out of it. It is a vivid story of high finance stirringly unfolded.



Among the other film gems on today is "Her Bitter Lesson." It is the old story of "marry in haste, repent at leisure." A rich girl elopes and finds out later that she does not love her husband. Her father is appealed to and he pays the husband to leave the country. The girl falls in love with a man she really loves and is going to marry him, hearing that her first husband is dead, when the first one turns up alive and proceeds to blackmail her. Events are thrilling until a happy climax is reached.

So get in on today's big Bijou bill, if you want to be present at something that is sure swell.

The Hoangho bridge, which the Tientsin-Pukow railway is building at a cost of $2,500,000, is to be opened with elaborate ceremonies next October. It is the finest of its kind in China.

ARMIES REST FOR DECISIVE BATTLE

the probability and almost certainty that an international congress will be called in the immediate future to deal with the Balkan situation, the officials here are speculating whether the United States is likely to be drawn into such a congress as, in the case of the Algeciras conference which undertook to settle the future of Morocco. In that case, however, the United States was a participant somewhat reluctantly by virtue of the fact that it had been a party to the original treaty of 1830, which dealt with Moroccan affairs. There exists no such convention of obligation in the case of Turkey and the Balkan States.

It has been suggested, however, that some of the great powers might not only welcome the appearance of the United States in such a conference as is proposed to be held, but might even extend an urgent invitation to take part, fired by a desire to have at least one power in the conference without selfish interests at stake and capable of acting as an umpire in case of serious dispute.

It was just such a function as that which the American delegation to the Algeciras conference under the direction of Henry White exersised so successfully.

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.

COTTON IS STILL GOING UP WHEAT PRICES SHOW LOSSES TRADING WAS PROFESSIONAL

Early Reaction Was Followed by Renewed Strength and Prices Made New High Records for the Season—Close Higher

New York, Nov. 7.—An early reaction was quickly followed by renewed strength in the cotton market today, and prices made new high records for the season on practically all active months, as a result of covering, trade buying and continued bull support. The close was four or five points off from the best, under realizing, but very steady, with last prices net unchanged to 13 points higher. The opening was steady, at unchanged prices to a decline of 4 points, and active months sold 7 to 8 points net lower, right after the call under realizing and local pressure inspired by somewhat disappointing cables and claims that recent frosts in the South had caused less damage than anticipated. Offerings were heavy, but were very well absorbed around the initial figures, owing to a good demand from trade sources, and prices soon turned firmer on this support and fresh buying inspired by rumors of bullish private crop estimates, talk of reduced estimates of the yields of Egypt and China, and apprehensions that the rains reported in the South would be followed by increased complaints of low grades. Bullish private Southern spot advices also contributed to the buying movement, and during the early afternoon the market sold into new high ground, catching stop orders as it advanced. Around 11.80 for January and above 12 cents for May, the market again appeared to be attracting a good deal of long cotton and prices eased off slightly from the best in the late trading. Leading spot people were credited with buying freely for January delivery, but were also said to have been heavy sellers of May on the advance to 12.06.

Spot closed steady. Middling uplands, 12.00; middling gulf, 12.25; sales, none.

Futures closed very steady.

STOCK MARKET FAILED TO RETAIN BUOYANCY

Stock Market Failed to Retain Buoyancy Manifested in Previous Day's Operations—Some Material Gains Made

New York, Nov. 7.—None of the buoyancy which characterized yesterday's operations in stocks was manifested today. Trading, while much under the total of Wednesday's session, was moderately large, but its professional character was doubtless a source of disappointment to those who had expected the close of the political campaign might stimulate investment demand.

Initial prices showed some material gains, especially in St. Paul, Copper and Sears-Roebuck. In fact, St. Paul later became the leader in the market, irrespective of strength, with marked improvement in the Harrimans and a few minor railroads, including Missouri Pacific. Pressure upon Reading and Steel resulted in a general shading of prices later. There was a sharp break in American Cotton Oil, because of the failure of an expected dividend. St. Paul was at its best in the final hour, when the general list became more irregular. Much of the restraint shown by this market was traceable to foreign conditions. London's prices for our stocks constituted a mixture of gains and losses in contrast to the previous day.

The weekly statements of the Bank of England and the Bank of France, while relatively negligible, were not calculated to inspire encouragement.

The money market was dull and weaker, time rates falling as demand for call money increased. Most call loans today were made at 5 per cent.

Bonds were again firm, with activity in St. Paul and Atchison issues. Total sales, par value, $2,813,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 764,900 shares.

to increase the plurality of Woodrow Wilson. The figures are:

Wilson 169,162; Roosevelt 149,540; Taft 111,084. Wilson plurality 19,622.

Complete returns from all but two Legislative districts show that the Legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican. This assures the re-election of United States Senator Kenyon.

Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 7.—Although complete unofficial returns from all the counties of Kansas have been received, the result of the contest, between Arthur Capper, Republican, and George H. Hodges, Democrat, for Governor, stil is in doubt and probably the official count will be required to decide which is elected.

Republican State Chairman Dolley said the returns gave Capper a lead of 1,000 votes, while at Democratic headquarters Hodges was credited with a plurality of 1,500.

The result on the State probably will be determined by the mail vote, which is expected to total at least 3,000. At the State university and the State agricultural college 800 votes were cast., Under the law enacted by the last Legislature legal voters who are unable to vote at their voting places may cast a ballot in any precincts of the State in which he happens to be on election day and may have his vote mailed to the county clerk and by that official mailed to the election commissioner of the county in which the voter lives. The mail votes are not counted until three days after the election.

Complete unofficial returns give the National Democratic ticket 20,000 plurality and William H. Thompson, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, a lead of 15,000.

Vote in California.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—Col. Roosevelt's vote in California passed that of Woodrow Wilson at one period of the count of the State returns today, but within a few hours belated returns from the highland districts had put Wilson back in the lead. Early tonight his plurality was slightly more than 1,000 and slowly creeping up. The several hundred remote precincts still unreported are expected to add somewhat to these figures, as most of them are in counties that have returned Democratic pluralities.

A discrepancy in the Los Angeles county tallies led both Democratic and Progressive leaders to appeal today to the county clerk for a recount of the returns. It resulted in adding nearly 6,000 votes to the Roosevelt column, giving Roosevelt a temporary lead of about 500 in the State at large.

Roosevelt carried Los Angeles city and county by a plurality of 20,257, with seven precincts missing. Today's returns assured the re-election to Congress of William Kent, Progressive, in the First district. The Congressional delegation stands: Progressives 5; Republicans 4; Democrats 2.

Michigan's Representation.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—Michigan's Congressional representation will be composed of eight Republicans, three Democrats and two Progressives.

Both of the Progressive Congressmen-elect succeeded Republicans.

Late returns today failed to show any marked change in the plurality of Roosevelt or Governor-elect Ferris.

The equal suffrage amendment was adopted by upwards of 6,000.

Sulzer Will Still Serve.

New York, Nov. 7.—William Sulzer, elected to the Governorship of New York on Tuesday, announced today that he would continue to serve as representative in Congress until the end of the year. At the opening of the short session next month he will go to Washington and take his seat, he said:

"There are some important matters I want to clean up there," continued the Governor-elect, "and I will not resign until December 31. After that I will give my undivided attention to the interests of the people of the State of New York."

Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Returns up to 6:45 P. M. from all parts of Illinois, with 130 precincts not heard from, give Wilson a plurality of 9,437 over Roosevelt.

Returns from all parts of Illinois with 320 precincts missing give Wilson a plurality of 5,499 over Roosevelt.

A good proportion of the missing precincts are due from counties either normally Democratic or which have shown large Wilson gains in this election.

Returns up to 2:45 P. M. from all except 340 precincts in the State give Wilson a plurality of 6,952 over Roosevelt. Wilson's plurality outside of Cook county is 45,443. The missing precincts are so scattered that no estimate can be made on them.

California.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—Wilson's plurality in California, which was wiped out temporarily today through changes made in the official re-count in Los Angeles county, continued to increase slowly after he had again passed Roosevelt on returns from remote districts. At 5 P. M. Wilson had a lead of 1,058. A majority of the missing precincts are in Democratic counties in the mountain region.

Wilson's plurality in California was reduced to 776 late today with 238 precincts missing out of 4,134 in the State. According to estimates by Progressive leaders in Los Angeles Roosevelt will have a majority of 700. Many missing precincts, however, are in counties showing pluralities for Wilson.

Returns from the county clerk's re-count of Los Angeles city and county with 19 precincts missing, show Roosevelt's plurality to be 19,763. This is a gain for Roosevelt of 2,204 and gives Roosevelt a plurality in the State of 547 votes. An official re-count may be necessary. Earlier returns today had indicated a slight plurality for Wilson.

Nick Longworth Defeated.

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth was defeated for re-election by Stanley Bowdle, Democrat, by 85 votes, according to the unofficial canvass of the vote in the first Ohio district. Congressman Longworth will not admit his defeat, however, and the result will not be finally known until the board of election has made its official canvass.

Straw Vote in Panama.

Colon, Panama, Nov. 7.—The Progressives came out well on top in the Presidential elections in the Canal Zone. The figures were: Roosevelt 1,026; Wilson 782; Debs 440; Taft 106; Chafin 71.

Illinois Goes to Wilson

Chicago, Nov. 7.—With all but 130 scattering precincts out of 4,288 in Illinois reported Governor Wilson tonight has a plurality of 9,437 over Colonel Roosevelt and it is generally conceded that he has carried the State.

All of the precincts to be heard from are outside of Cook county and many of them in the Southern part of the State, where further pluralities for Wilson are anticipated.

The popular vote now stands:

Wilson 399,428; Roosevelt, 389,991; Taft, 250,297.

The vote for Cook county was Roosevelt 176,480, Wilson 138,223 and Taft 79,924. In the 2,658 precincts out of 2,788 outside of Cook county the result stood Wilson 261,205, Roosevelt 213,511 and Taft 170,373.

It became apparent early today that Wilson soon would pass Roosevelt's vote. Throughout the day Wilson's gain was gradual. Then when he was approximately 9,000 ahead of Roosevelt, it was discovered that the President-elect had been credited erroneously with 3,000 too many votes from Livingston county. This decreased plurality gave hope to the Progressives, but it was short lived, for almost every precinct reported from then on increased Wilson's lead.

Oregon

Portland, Oregon, Nov. 7.—Partial returns from every county in Oregon but two give Wilson 31,664, Roosevelt 25,434, Taft 23,600.

For United States Senator, Lane, Democrat, 28,206; Zeling, Republican, 27,249; Bourne, Independent, incumbent, 20,046.

Mixed Victory in Massachusetts

Boston, Mass., Nov. 7.—The Democratic victory of Tuesday in Massachusetts apparently did not extend below the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Secretary of State. Unofficial returns from the 33 cities and all but a few of the towns show pluralities for the Republican candidate for State Treasurer, Auditor and Attorney General of from 2,000 to 5,000.

Republican Senator

Concord, N. H., Nov. 7.—Complete returns for the entire State ticket give the Republicans a majority of 21 on joint ballot in the Legislature which will be called upon to choose a Governor and a United States Senator The complete vote for President was Taft 32,964, Wilson 34,743, Roosevelt 17,802, Chafin 351, Debs 1,640.

THE LOPIZZO TRIAL

Governor Had to Order Out More Troops, Witness Testifies

Salem, Mass., Nov. 7.—That Governor Foss found it necessary during the Lawrence textile strike to increase the militia forces on guard there to preserve the peace, was testified to today by Dudley M. Holman, former secretary to the Governor, in the Ettor-Giovannitti-Caruso trial for the Lopizzo murder. Mr. Holman, on cross-examination, declared he heard Colonel Sweetzer, who was in command of the militia, order the soldiers to clear the streets of strikers on the morning of January 29th, when the street car riots occurred.

"I heard the colonel give the order, and I saw the soldiers carry it out," said Mr. Holman. Testimony relating to the planting of dynamite in Lawrence was admitted in limited form by Judge Quinn, attorneys for the defense being permitted to ask witness if the strikers believed the dynamite was planted at the instigation of mill owners to prejudice the cause of the strikers.

Mrs. Josephine Mika, who until recently was Josephine Liss, one of the strikers who took the Lawrence children to Washington to appear before the House Rules Committee, testified that Ettor continually told the strikers to be peaceful and not to provoke trouble. She was one who said the mill workers believed the mill owners planted dynamite in Lawrence.

"When the dynamite was found," she said, "Mr. Ettor told the people not to believe the strikers had anything to do with it. He said that it was a job of the capitalists."

"Don't provoke the militia; don't give soldiers any chance to warm up; let the kids freeze," was another remark attributed to Ettor in the testimony of Frank Reider, a mill worker.

Fraterizio Pitocchelli, Italian banker of Lawrence, who is on W. D. Haywood's bond, testified that he heard the defendants, Ettor and Giovannitti speak, but never heard them urge violence.

Dudley Holman, former secretary to Governor Foss, who went to Lawrence to investigate the strike for the Governor, testified regarding conferences with the strike leaders. Ettor, he said, co-operated with him in getting information for the State.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Boys Were Playing Hide and Seek In Gasoline Tank

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—Joe Starzyk, 13 years old, was instantly killed; Joe Tomasczewski, 14, was perhaps fatally injured and four other boys were badly burned late today by an explosion of gas in a tank car which recently had been emptied of gasoline.

The boys were playing hide and seek. Tomasczewski, noticing the empty car, decided it was a good place to conceal himself. He descended with Starzyk following him. Just as the latter was entering the opening Tomasczewski struck a match.

Starzyk was blown 50 feet into the air and fell on top of a box car three tracks away. Tomasczewski lay flat on the floor of the car until the flames burned out.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

President Taft Sets Aside Nov. 28th, for Observance of Day.

Washington, Nov. 7.—President Taft today issued the Thanksgiving proclamation, setting aside November 28th, for the observance of that day. The proclamation follows:

"By the President of the United States of America:

"A Proclamation:

"A God-fearing Nation like ours owes it to its inborn and sincere sense of moral duty to testify its devout gratitude to the All-giver for the countless benefits it has enjoyed. For many years it has been customary at the close of the year for the National executive to call upon his fellow countrymen to offer praise and thanks to God for the manifold blessings vouchsafed to them in the past, and to unite in earnest suppliance for their continuance.

"The year now drawing to a close has been notably favorable to our fortunate land. At peace within and without, free from the perturbations and calamities that have afflicted other peoples; rich in harvests so abundant and industries so productive, that overflow of our prosperity has advantaged the whole world; strong in the steadfast conservation of the heritage of self-government bequeathed to us by the wisdom of our fathers and firm in the resolve to transmit that heritage unimpaired, but rather improved by good use, to our children and our children's children for all time to come, the people of this country have abounding cause for contented gratitude.

"Wherefore, I William Howard Taft, President of the United States of America, in pursuance of long established usage and in response to the wish of the American people, invite my countrymen, wheresoever they may sojourn, to join, on Thursday, the 28th day of this month of November, in appropriate ascription of praise and thanks to God for the good gifts that have been our portion, and in humble prayer, that His great mercies toward us may endure.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and twelve, and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and thirty-seventh. "WILLIAM H. TAFT.

"By the President.

"ALVA ADEE, Acting Secretary of State."

JACK JOHNSON INDICTED

Federal Grand Jury Returns True Bills Under Mann Act

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, was indicted by the Federal grand jury today, charged with violation of the Mann Act against the transportation of women from one State to another for immoral purposes. Johnson was indicted on four counts and his bail fixed at $30,000 by United States Judge Landis.

Federal officers were instructed to arrest Johnson, who could not be found early this evening. The search for him extended to various quarters of the city.

The specific case upon which the indictment against Johnson was based was that of Belle Schriber, of Pittsburgh (white) whom Johnson was charged with bringing to Chicago in August, 1910.

The jury, however, heard the testimony of Lucile Cameron, of Minneapolis, whose mother charged Johnson with abduction, and she was held as a witness in $15,000 bail.

After Max and David Weber had offered a $15,000 bond for the Cameron girl, Judge Landis refused to accept it. He gave no explanation for his refusal. Plans were made to return her to Rockford, Ill., where she has been held in jail.

FROM REV. MR. CARR.

Several Appointments Are Announced for His Churches.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Currie, N. C., Nov. 7.—Rev. E. B. Carr, unless providentially hindered, will preach at Currie on next second Sunday night, at 7:30 o'clock, in the new Presbyterian church. We are glad to have all the people in the community of Currie to come and hear the gospel. Preaching at Caswell church next Saturday and Sunday at 11 o'clock A. M., and communion service on Sunday. Brethren, don't forget to answer the call which Rev. J. S. Crowley sent out for Currie church about two weeks ago, for we don't want to have to send out a duplicate call.

MORE OUT-DOOR LIVING.

And Death Rate Will be Lowered.

Statistics prove that the death rate is very much greater in the Winter months than in Summer, and that the lack of fresh air is largely responsible for this condition.

If the system becomes rundown, blood thin and watery, circulation poor, no appetite, don't dose with drugs, but take our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol, not a patent medicine, as everything in it is named on every package and if it does not give you a hearty appetite, enrich the blood and create strength, we will return your money; that shows our faith in Vinol.

A case has just come to our attention from Albany, N. Y. Mrs. H. Hartman says: "I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this Spring, when I learned what a good tonic and strengthener Vinol is. It is certainly the best tonic I have ever used and it has done wonders for me."

Try a bottle of Vinol, on our guarantee. R. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N C.

TAUGHT WILSON HERE

Interesting Story of President-elect's School Days in Wilmington

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 7.—John C. Baker, of Manhattan, was the happiest man in Will county over the election of Woodrow Wilson to the Presidency because it fulfilled a prediction made by his sister, Mrs. Mary Russell, more than 40 years ago.

Mrs. Russell was Mr. Wilson's teacher when he was 10 years old in Tileston School, Wilmington, N. C., and at that time predicted that the boy some day would be President. She died three years ago at Leesville, N. C., at the age of 84.

As a token of his esteem, Mr. Wilson presented his teacher with a little fretwood picture frame, which is now in the Baker home. Mrs. Russell watched Mr. Wilson grow to fame, and with each advance changed the picture in the frame. When she gave the frame to her brother she remarked: "You will want to keep this, for when he gets to be President you will be very proud of it."

Baker said that Wilson's father, Rev. Joseph Wilson, visited him at Manhattan at the time his son published his first book, and said: "Well, I don't see where Woodrow gets his smartness."

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 7.—Three men were injured, one probably fatally, in an explosion of a gas tank at a local machine shop tonight. William Barrett suffered a broken leg and internal injuries and may die. Percy D. Benbow and J. H. Hamlin were badly burned.
